"The size of your questions determines the size of your results. Most people ask too little. Don't be afraid to ask big life questions!"

10 STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TODAY

Take charge of your health, wellness, and success.
Here are 10 steps that can move you closer to your goals – today.

- Formulate the right questions to get the best answers you're searching for. In doing so, you begin to look deeper within yourself if you're curious about what's inside you.
- Remove the shame of not having all the answers. No one in this world knows everything, so don't hesitate to ask if you're clueless about something and are interested in learning more about it.
- On the other hand, don't shame others for not knowing about a certain topic. When someone asks you a genuine question, answer them the best way you can. Aim to guide them to become better.
- Visualize your goals and dreams as clearly as you can. Write them down, create a vision board, journal them, etc. Be as specific as you can. For example, if you want to become a millionaire, write down the amount of money you want to see in your bank account one day.
- Take action as soon as you start digging for answers. Going after the things you want in your life is a quest wherein every tool you stumble upon along the way is a key to the next level. Utilize that key to your best advantage.
- Remember that miracles and opportunities are everywhere, no matter when, where, or how. You magnetize your goals better if you have the innate trust the Universe will provide.
- Build a team of individuals who share your values to help you achieve your goals. Accept the fact that you cannot do great things on your own. You will always need a helping hand, and there's no such thing as self-made.
- Be hyper-aware of the distractions that life throws at you. Even a small notification ding from your cellphone can hinder productivity. Weed out what's not important and always put your top priorities first.
- Choose a life partner who aligns with your hopes and dreams and vice versa. Growing together in a relationship is vital. The Universe conspires magnificent things when you're with the right person.
